THE THEATERS

Miss Marion Leonard plays the title role in "The Rose of Yesterday," a three reel special Famous Player production at the Orpheum theater tomorrow. The theme is a romance of three lives curiously entangled by fate and overflowing with pathos, in which Miss Leonard brings out her exquisite artistry and her power of emotional acting has full play. The subject is one of those "sweetest ever told," a pure love romance in a modern yet picturesque form. This program is a special feature for the many lady patrons of the Orpheum. One of these screaming Keystone comedies, "When Hazel Met the Villain," will also be shown Saturday making five reels in all.

With a tango performed in real ball room style, singing and music of a high class and most elaborate costumes, the Cosmopolitan Four at the Odeon the last of this week is easily the headliner. Mr. and Mrs. Gould and Gerald Griffin and Blanche Lewis are up to the minute in the most minute detail. The two female members of the company wear the most expensive costumes seen on the Odeon stage and close their act wearing green wigs, the latest craze. The members of the quartet are refined, coming from good families and each having a fine education. Mr. Gould is a University of Michigan man, while Mr. Griffin is a University of Dublin graduate. Each part of the act of the quartet is greeted with enthusiastic applause.

The screen offerings today include "The Strength of Family Ties," a two part Lubin drama, and "Wrong All Around," a fine Essanay comedy.

If you are hunting entertainment and real pleasure drop into the Bijou tonight as Mabel Trunelle and Herbert Prior are on the screen in a two part Edison feature, "A Romance of the Everglades," Pathe Weekly No. 31 and a fine Vitagraph special, "The Road to Heaven," are also shown. And if you want to laugh, the program for Saturday includes a half dozen comedies. Little Andy Clark, the Edison comedian, will be there with a host of other fun makers.

Tonight at the Robinson Grand another farce comedy will be given, "All in a Name," the funniest of plays was written for just one purpose and that was to promote laughter, and those who have seen the ability of the members of the company surrounding Miss Francis can well expect every thing intended by the author to be extracted from the lines.

The play offered last night, "The Substitute," had many laughs in the line and Harry Coleman more than did justice to the part of the female impersonation. Tonight's play, however, differs from last night and there are more laughs in "All in a Name" than in any other play that was ever written.

The quaint expression, "What's in a name" will be clearly proved to those who attend this evening's performance at the Robinson Grand. Harry Coleman sang a new song last evening, "They're On Their Way to Mexico." He composed the "ditty" during the afternoon and had no time to have orchestrations made. He will repeat his latest at one of the remaining performances.

BOWLING NEWS

Fairmont Defeats Locals.

The Fairmont duck pin team defeated the Gore alley team in a one sided game played on the Gore alleys last evening. The Fairmont team was one man short so it was a four man team instead of five as scheduled. The local bowlers had an off night, Dresbach and Price bowling miserable scores.

King, of the Fairmont team, had high score and high average for the contest. L. Deem, of the local team, had high score and high average.

Wesleyan's chances will be fifty per cent better for a victory here tomorrow, while if Hagen pitches the game today and gets away with a victory, West Virginia's chances will be much better.

A large number of friends and alumni of both teams went to Fairmont today to witness the contest at South Side Park.

Pawva League Lore

Manager George Needham, of the Fairmont team, released four players yesterday. They were Loomis, Ely and Lease pitchers and Mar, an outfielder.

The Fairmont team plays its first game Saturday afternoon at South Side park. The Regulars and Yannis will clash. After this game Manager Needham will release about ten men.

Seven of the Uniontown players have reported and Manager Freddie Paige has selected Heinie Deiters, an old head, to be playing manager and captain of the team.

Okay, the new outfielder, who reported to Manager Shannon Wednesday evening worked out with the boys at the park yesterday afternoon and showed fine as a fielder.

Manager Shannon got a letter from Eddie Deem, the speedy little left fielder of the Colts. He will report here Saturday. He trained with the Milwaukee Brewers and is in good condition.

It was learned Thursday that pitcher Loomis was playing under a non de plume, his right name being Robert Lamberton. He has all the ear marks of a good pitcher, his only fault being lack of control.

James B. Mack, of the Connellsville Cokers, is having a hard time to select his team. He has about forty-five players trying out and has shown no signs of releasing any of them. Mack has big league ideas and thinks he can carry thirty players on his team. Time will tell.

Thomas Harris, one of the most promising ball players of Manager Shannon's squad, returned to his home at Coulter, Pa., Thursday. This was Harris's first trip away from home and he got homesick. He asked for his release but promised Manager Shannon if he played ball this season it would be with the Colts. He was given his release.
